It might be a small independent business, but JPL Designs is having a big impact in the lives of its customers. That's because for 22 years the Coventry-based firm has designed and installed high-quality kitchens and bedrooms for people across the city.

It has survived the testing times businesses have witnessed over the past few years and come out stronger - like only companies with integrity and a reputation for quality can. The company spent the first half of its life in Earlsdon before moving to a large, purpose-built site in Canley, where it is now based.

The Fletchamstead Highway site has a fully-fitted kitchen studio to view while clients can even see their kitchen or wardrobes being manufactured on the premises. And staff are able to offer a full in-house design and installation service with trusted fitters that have worked alongside boss Jean Paul Lamon for years.

He said the company had a simple ethos - to focus 100 per cent of their efforts on clients to deliver a truly outstanding kitchen or bedroom without sacrificing quality or service.

"I believe in good old fashioned customer service and this is what sets us apart from the rest of the competition.

"We do what we say we are going to do we start and do not leave to drop onto other projects until we are totally finished," Jean Paul added. And it seems to have paid off. There are dozens of happy customers whose testimonials fill a whole page on the company's website.

One said: "The very professional approach and the standard of workmanship has been excellent and the new doors and general refurbishment of our kitchen has made it look like new.

"It goes without saying that we would highly recommend you to all our friends, thank you once again for a first class job."

And the list goes on: "Because of you we now have a new, stunning, beautiful kitchen," another one says.

Also on the website is a glimpse into the showroom, with numerous 360-degree cameras showing what's on offer. JPL offers all types of finishes to both kitchen and bedrooms to suit all tastes and budgets. And the company's top reputation even earned it a feature on popular TV show 60 Minute Makeover a couple of years ago, while it has also donated generously to charity.
